Scores that built a legend

2022

Tribute to the Classic Bordeaux Style

“Spot-on balance. This wine pays tribute to Left Bank Bordeaux (...) It’s a testament to Chile’s ability to produce complex, nuanced cabernets that strike a balance between classic tobacco and savory notes, while remaining smooth and approachable at a young age.”

James Suckling Report, 2025

Among the Wines of the Year

“It has always been at the more refined end of the spectrum (...) Santa Rita’s Casa Real is the latest in an impressive run of releases of the bodega’s icon red (...) Exceptional.”

Tim Atkin MW, 2025

2021

A Timeless Classic

“One of the world’s great, age-worthy varietal Cabernet Sauvignons, Casa Real is reliably good, finely-structured, and always-appealing, with the results from the wetter fresher 2021 vintage suiting the refined nature of this longstanding icon red wine.”

Patrick Schmitt, The Drinks Business, 2024

Among the World’s Great Iconic Wines

“The lavishly styled Casa Real has remained a benchmark to those following high-end Bordeaux wines worldwide for over three decades (...) (Casa Real 2021 has) a new sense of verve and vibrancy that should aid its development in the cellar.”

Matthew Lucy, Robert Parker’s Wine Advocate, 2025

A Pioneer That Keeps Evolving

“An elegant Cabernet, it lingers on the palate with a complex finish. Casa Real undoubtedly stands out amongst the Cabernets that raised the bar in the Chilean wine scene in the 1990s. Planted in 1970 in Alto Jahuel, Maipo Alto, this cuvée has evolved into a much more intricate wine since its inception.”

Joaquín Hidalgo, Vinous, 2024

2019

Made to Cellar

“Top 12 Cabernet Sauvignons of 2022. This is a wine of intensity and freshness. Indeed, it is a beautifully balanced red that benefits from the free-draining soils of an ancient alluvial terrace of the Maipo River and the cool night-time air from the Andean mountains above (...) This release, like the others before it, will age wonderfully if properly cellared.”

Patrick Schmitt, The Drinks Business, 2022

2018

Top Maipo Cabernet

“Falling in the former category, Viña Santa Rita’s big, rich Cabernet Sauvignon Maipo Valley Casa Real 2018 (95 points) is one of this report’s highest-scoring wines, as well as the top bottling from Maipo.”

Aaron Romano, Wine Spectator, 2022

2014

A Jewel of Chilean Wine History

“(Santa Rita), from its privileged location in Alto Maipo, produces some of the best Cabernet Sauvignon in the country, with the standout being Casa Real Reserva Especial — a historic red in the national wine scene, born from vines planted in the 1970s (...) This is a very young wine; hold onto it, because it’s a piece of Chilean wine history.”

Patricio Tapia, Descorchados, 2018

2012

A Benchmark Beyond Trends

“This is one of those wines that are never out of fashion, but it’s not really fashionable either. It’s a true classic. It’s the prototype of Cabernet Sauvignon from Maipo.”

Luis Gutiérrez, Robert Parker’s Wine Advocate, 2015

2007

The Editor’s Choice

“One of Chile’s benchmark wines is typically clean, pure and inviting (...) Probably the closest thing in style to great Napa Valley Cab; deep, dense and long on the finish. A hearty but refined wine.”

Michael Schachner, Wine Enthusiast, 2013

2004

One of Chile’s Finest Since the Start

“From Carneros Viejo, a vineyard planted in 1962 on Santa Rita’s estate in Buin, this traditional red has been one of the finest examples of Chilean cabernet sauvignon since the first release in 1989.”

Wine & Spirits, 2008

1989

A Wine Legend

“This was the first vintage of Santa Rita’s icon wine, and it soon became established as one of Chile’s greatest Cabernets. It is only produced in exceptional years in order to retain the quality level set by the 1989 vintage (...) Alto Maipo is widely considered the finest region in Chile for Cabernet Sauvignon.”

Stephen Brook, Decanter 2013
